

Northwind Logistics — Q3 2024 Regional Performance Report

Q3 2024 continued the growth trend from Q2. The West region maintained its lead and the South region closed the gap significantly. The Northeast region fully recovered from the warehouse migration issues that held it back last quarter. The chart below breaks out exact revenue contribution by region.

Carrier mix also shifted this quarter as we expanded our partnership with regional carriers to improve delivery times in dense urban corridors. The chart below shows the current shipment volume split across our carrier partners.

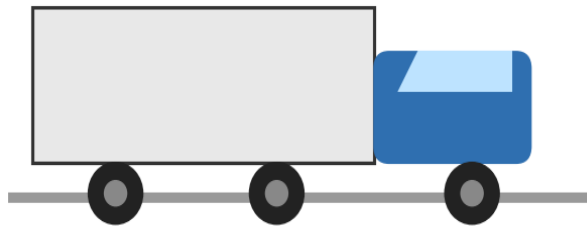

Operations Highlights

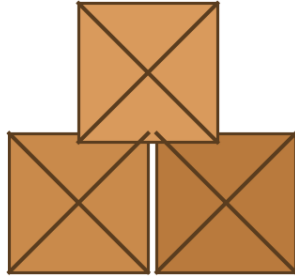

This quarter we opened a new automated distribution warehouse in the West region to support increased volume. The facility below is now fully operational and handling overflow from our existing sites.

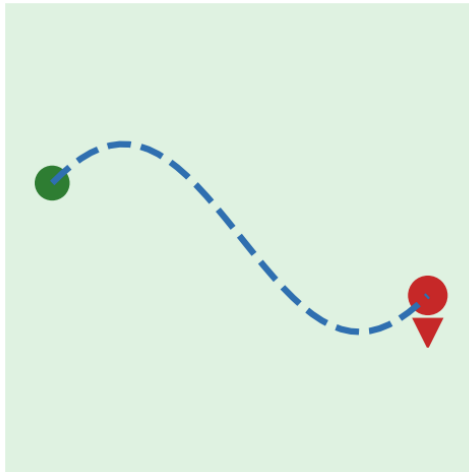

Our delivery fleet expanded with additional box trucks to handle last-mile delivery in dense urban corridors, shown below.

All fragile shipments are now double-boxed under our upgraded packaging protocol, illustrated below.

We also launched a new expedited route network connecting our regional hubs, mapped below.

Looking ahead to Q4, leadership expects the West and South regions to remain the primary growth drivers, with continued investment in regional carrier partnerships.
